Tape Transcript Versions Differ

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's lawyer is playing down differences between the White House account of Watergate and newly released House Judiciary Committee transcripts that quote the President as telling aides to cover up the scandal from Senate investigators.

"I don't believe the relationship with the Senate Select Committee was necessarily relevant" to the impeachment inquiry, said presidential lawyer James D. St. Clair when asked Tuesday why a long passage dealing with the Senate Watergate committee was omitted from the White House transcript of a March 22, 1973, conversation.

"We furnished the tape to the (House) committee, so if they felt it was relevant they could publish it, which they did," he said.

As for other differences between the White House and committee transcripts of eight presidential Watergate conversations, he added:

"My experience has been that if you have three people listen to a tape, you get three variations."

John Doar, chief counsel for the impeachment inquiry, said his staff utilized the latest sophisticated electronic equipment in preparing the transcripts and they represented "the best job we can do."

After a full day of listening to testimony in closed session, few members had any comments on the staff study.

Rep. Lawrence Hogan, R-Md., said, "You've got to listen to the tapes. It's still a matter of opinion who said what."

Hogan said he was certain there were errors in the committee transcripts but that he thought they were more accurate than the White House versions.

"There are places where the person transcribing heard the wrong word," Hogan said of the committee transcripts. But he declined to cite an example.

Committee members heard the tapes in closed evidentiary sessions in May, but they didn't get the staff comparison with the White House transcripts until Tuesday, the day it was made public.

In the March 22 passage omitted from the White House transcripts, Nixon is quoted in the committee version as telling aides "I don't give a shit what happens. I want you all to stonewall it, let them plead the Fifth Amendment, cover-up or anything else," if called before the Senate Watergate committee.

Other differences were less dramatic. It often was unclear whether they represent anything more than simple differences in what transcribers heard.

For example, earlier in the March 22 conversation, there was discussion of the possibility of White House aides citing executive privilege as the basis for refusing to testify before the Watergate committee.

The White House version quoted Nixon as saying former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell was arguing that "now we use flexibility in order to get off the cover-up line."

According to the committee transcript, Nixon said Mitchell was arguing "that now we use flexibility in order to get on with the cover-up plan."

In other cases, the comparison confirmed versions that had leaked from the closed committee sessions.

It confirmed that Nixon's comment about Watergate conspirator E. Howard Hunt Jr.'s hush money demand was, at one point, "Well for Christ's sake, get it ..." The White House version was, "(Expletive deleted), get it."

In his introduction to a 130-page volume entitled "Comparison of Passages," Committee Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., said the study, which listed the differences side-by-side, "does not draw any conclusions for, or the significance of, the differences."

Doar also emphasized that committee members would have to make the final decision on the significance of differences and on which version to accept. Members are scheduled to begin debating next week whether there are grounds to impeach President Nixon.

Release of the transcripts was the first step in scheduled disclosure of thousands of pages of evidence the committee has received from its impeachment staff. More material is expected to come out by week's end.

White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler called release of the transcripts "a hypoed public relations campaign."

He said the committee should release "the full body of evidence all together, all at once, and not in piecemeal fashion."

The committee transcripts were drawn from tapes of conversations Sept. 15, 1972, Feb. 28, March 13, two on March 21, March 22 and two on April 16, all in 1973. Those were the only cases in which the committee had tapes covering conversations included in the White House transcripts released April 30.

In a nationally televised speech April 29, the President disclosed he was releasing edited transcripts of 43 conversations he had with aides about Watergate.

"They include all the relevant portions of all the subpoenaed conversations that were recorded," Nixon said. "All portions that relate to the question of what I knew about Watergate or the cover-up and what I did about it."

They were Nixon's response to a Judiciary Committee subpoena demanding tapes of 42 conversations. The committee refused to accept the edited transcripts as compliance with its subpoena.

WATERGATE COMMITTEE

Both versions showed Nixon and his staff early in 1973 regarded the Senate investigation, to be headed by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., as a partisan Democratic effort to embarrass the Republican administration.

During the Feb. 28 conversation, White House counsel John W. Dean III suggested Ervin was "merely a puppet for (Sen. Edward M.) Kennedy (D-Mass.) in this whole thing."

A few moments later, Nixon is quoted as saying, "Yeah, I guess the whole Kennedy crowd is just laying in the bushes waiting to make their move."

HUSH MONEY

There were differences in emphasis between the two versions of March 21 discussions of Hunt's demands for money.

In the White House transcripts, Nixon said Hunt "might blow the whistle and his price is pretty high, but at least we can buy time on that, as I pointed out to John."

According to the committee version, Nixon said Hunt might "blow the whistle and he, he— his price is pretty high, but at least, uh, we should, we should buy the time on that, uh, as I, as I pointed out to John."

Later, according to the White House transcript, Nixon said, "Well, it sounds like a lot of money, a million dollars. Let me say that I think we could get that. I know money is hard to raise. But the point is, what we do on that— Let's look at the hard problem."

The committee version quoted him as saying:

"But let's now come back to the money, a million dollars and so forth and so on. Let me say that I think you could get that in cash and I know money is hard, but there are ways. That could be (unintelligible). But the point is, uh, what would you do on that—Let's look at the hard facts."

SERIOUSLY INJURED—Forty-three-year-old Marilyn J. Patterson, Adelphi, is reported in good condition at the Ross County Medical Center, after she received severe multiple lacerations in a two-car accident, 4:15 p.m. on Route 56, east of Jackson Road. According to the report taken by Sheriff's Deputy James Fite, George W. Waller, 47, Columbus, was driving west on 56 when he went left of center, striking the Patterson vehicle. Deputy Fite cited Waller for driving while intoxicated and left of center. Waller was also cited for reckless operation and leaving the scene of an accident when he was involved in a single-car hit-skip 15 minutes earlier on 56 at the Tarlton-Adelphi Road.

Former Chief Justice Warren Dies At 83

WASHINGTON (AP) — The death of Earl Warren, a champion of the Bill of Rights in his 16 years as chief justice, removes a figure indelibly linked to landmark decisions of the Supreme Court in one of its most controversial eras.

Warren, 83, died in Georgetown University Hospital Tuesday night, a little more than five years after his retirement from the nation's highest judicial post. A hospital spokesman said he died of heart failure.

Under his leadership, the court struck down segregated schools, laid down the rule of "one man-one vote" and greatly expanded the rights of the accused in criminal cases.

Tributes came swiftly for the man whose years on the court were marked by criticism, which included demands for his impeachment.

President Nixon, who often was at odds with Warren in their years as California politicians and who criticized many of his court decisions, saluted him as "a partisan for America."

Chief Justice Warren E. Burger, named by Nixon to succeed Warren and steer the court toward "strict construction" of the Constitution, said "his contribution was large indeed."

Rosa Parks, the black seamstress whose refusal to give up her seat to a white man started the Montgomery bus boycott, said, "We have lost a great friend to humanity."

Warren was admitted to the hospital July 2, suffering from a heart ailment. It was his second hospitalization in two months.

With him at his death were his wife, Nina, and the youngest of their three daughters, Mrs. Stewart Brien. The Warrens also had two sons.

Only a few hours before, two of the former chief justice's closest associates on the court, Justices William O. Douglas and William J. Brennan, had left his bedside.

A court spokesman said Warren wanted the two to stay, but they felt he was too tired.

Warren served as chief justice from 1953 to 1969 after a political career in which he served 11 years as governor of California and twice sought the Republican presidential nomination.

He was vice-presidential candidate on the 1948 GOP national ticket headed by the late Thomas E. Dewey, then governor of New York. They lost to President Harry S. Truman.

Though he disapproved of outside assignments for members of the high court, at age 72 he took on the additional load of heading the commission to investigate the 1963 assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

One of the Warren court's most acclaimed decisions came in June 1954 when it struck down the doctrine of separate but equal schools for the races.

But the decision Warren thought most important was the "one man-one vote" ruling in 1962 that forced states to reapportion legislative and congressional districts to make them more equal in population.

"Legislators represent people, not trees or acres," he said.

As Alameda County, Calif., prosecutor, and state attorney general and governor, Warren carved out a reputation for being tough on crime.

But the court's decisions under his leadership expanded the procedural protections available to criminal defendants, earning him criticism from law and order advocates. During his 1968 presidential campaign, Nixon said the Warren court had "strengthened the criminal forces at the expense of the peace forces."

A common thread in decisions of the Warren court was equality —equal schools, equal representation, equal rights. The court consistently broadened the application of the Bill of Rights.

The decisions plunged the Warren court into controversy, and "Impeach Earl Warren" signs sprouted along roadsides in many parts of the country. His admirers, however, predicted he would rank as one of the great chief justices.

Warren was born in Los Angeles March 19, 1891, son of a Norwegian-born railroad car repairman and inspector. He served as an infantry first lieutenant in World War I.

Genial and gregarious, he entered public life as deputy city attorney for Oakland in 1919 and became district attorney in 1925. He was elected governor in 1942 after four years as attorney general.

He was instrumental in swinging the GOP presidential nomination in 1952 to Dwight D. Eisenhower, who as president named him chief justice on the death of Fred M. Vinson.

Nixon, in a statement from the White House, said:

"Earl Warren not only rendered outstanding service to our country but he was a distinguished figure in the Republican Party. In all things, he was never a partisan of political advantage, but always a partisan for America."

Justice Thurgood Marshall, speaking on the Black Audio Network, said, "When history is written, he'll go down as one of the greatest chief justices the country has ever been blessed with."

Former Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus, one of the sternest critics of the school desegregation decision, declined comment.

Besides his widow and daughter, Mrs. Stewart Brien, Warren is survived by sons James, Earl Jr., and Robert; and daughters Mrs. John C. Daly and Mrs. Harry Van Knight.

Mitchell Explains Hunt Hush Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell faces more questioning by the House Judiciary Committee about a $75,000 payment to Watergate burglar E. Howard Hunt Jr.

Mitchell, who approved the March 21, 1973 payment, told the committee Tuesday he did so with the understanding it was for legal fees, not to keep Hunt quiet. He returns to the stand today.

He also said there was no mention of the payment in a phone call he received from former White House Chief of Staff H.R. Haldeman shortly after a March 21 meeting between President Nixon, Haldeman and former presidential Counsel John W. Dean III.

Haldeman's call is a key bit of circumstantial evidence in the Watergate grand jury's indictment of Mitchell and Haldeman, and its naming of Nixon as an unindicted coconspirator in the Watergate cover-up.

Mitchell, charged with perjury, obstruction of justice and conspiracy, agreed to testify only within the narrow area of the $75,000 payment and his general relationship with Nixon.

His terms touched off an hour-long argument over whether the committee should be so limited in its examination of Mitchell.

Nixon counsel James D. St. Clair, who requested that Mitchell be called, has focused his defense on the March 21 payment, attempting to prove it was not initiated by Nixon.

Some Democratic committee members objected to being tied to St. Clair's defense strategy in their questioning of Mitchell.

Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., quieted the argument for the moment by ruling that the questioning by special counsel John Doar be held within Mitchell's guidelines. But when the time comes for members to ask questions, the dispute is expected to erupt again.

Though Rodino wants to complete taking of evidence and start the committee's deliberations on proposed articles of impeachment next week, still to be called are Dean, Herbert W. Kalmbach, who was Nixon's personal lawyer, and Asst. Atty. Gen. Henry E. Petersen. It also appeared Tuesday that the committee has decided to question former White House Special Counsel Charles W. Colson.

Rain Brings Some Relief From Heat

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A string of thundershowers punched holes in the heat that has blanketed much of the midcontinent, but high temperatures and humidity persisted today over most areas from the Rockies eastward.

The showers extended from Maine through the Great Lakes region into Minnesota and down through the Central Plains and parts of New Mexico and Colorado. Rain also fell along the northern Pacific Coast.

A severe thunderstorm at Lake St. Clair just south of Detroit late Tuesday produced waves estimated at 10 feet, splintering a number of small boats. Damaging winds also were reported at Elyria, Ohio, 12 miles southwest of Cleveland.

No injuries were reported in either storm.

The showers dumped nearly an inch of rain at Grand Rapids, Mich., and Tucumcari, N.M.

Cloudy to partly cloudy skies covered many of the Northern states from coast to coast.

Rush Tells Wife To Cut Eating

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's chief economic coordinator, Kenneth Rush, was asked by a newsman what he tells his wife when she is confronted with inflated food prices and a family checkbook that won't balance.

"I tell her she's eating too much," Rush replied with a smile on Tuesday.

He quickly followed up to tell reporters in the White House press room, "I'm joking. I regret the inflation very, very much."

Kissinger Slates Trial Testimony For Ehrlichman

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger makes an unprecedented appearance in a criminal proceeding today, testifying as a witness for John D. Ehrlichman in the plumbers trial.

Ehrlichman's attorneys called upon Kissinger to shake the credibility of a principal prosecution witness, David R. Young, who worked separately in the White House for both Kissinger and Ehrlichman.

Kissinger, just back from Europe where he consulted with NATO allies about President Nixon's Moscow trip, is expected to be under oath for only a few minutes.

A CIA official has testified Young told him Kissinger and Ehrlichman in August 1971 had requested that the agency prepare a psychological profile on Pentagon Papers figure Daniel Ellsberg.

Kissinger, then President Nixon's chief national security adviser, is expected to deny ever asking for such a profile.

The trial is in its tenth day.

There also has been testimony that Kissinger was among those in the White House who sought to have Ellsberg's name smeared through leaks of derogatory information to sympathetic journalists.

Ellsberg leaked the Pentagon Papers study of the Vietnam war to The New York Times in June 1971, an incident that led to creation of the plumbers, a special White House investigative unit of which Young was codirector.

Young testified last week in exchange for immunity from prosecution.

The plumbers planned and carried out the Sept. 3, 1971, break-in at the Beverly Hills, Calif., office of Ellsberg's psychiatrist, Dr. Lewis J. Fielding, in an unsuccessful search for Ellsberg's psychiatric records.

Through his approval of the entry, Ehrlichman, 49, is accused of conspiring to violate Fielding's rights. He also faces four counts of lying to the FBI and a grand jury.

G. Gordon Liddy and Miamians Bernard L. Barker and Eugenio R. Martinez, also are charged in the conspiracy count.

In his final two hours of his own defense Tuesday, Ehrlichman was questioned about a series of inconsistencies between his trial testimony and previous sworn testimony and documents.

Generally, the former chief White House domestic affairs executive cited a bad memory for any conflicts.

Man Appeals Conviction

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — James Hall, 20, of Toledo, has appealed his second-degree murder conviction in the strangulation of a University of Iowa nursing student.

Hall's attorneys Tuesday asked the Iowa Supreme Court to reverse his conviction and to overturn adverse rulings on defense motions made before, during and after the trial, including a request for a new trial.

District Court Judge Louis W. Schultz last Wednesday sentenced Hall to 50 years in prison after refusing his motion for a new trial.

Hall is not scheduled to begin his sentence until July 16, to allow time for an appeal to be filed. Hall's attorneys said they hoped to post $50,000 bond this week.

Hall was convicted May 23 in the death of Sarah Ann Ottens, 20, of Morrison, Ill. She was killed in March, 1973.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices remained steady today as brokers said technical factors offset continuing gloom over inflation, interest rates, and the economy.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials, which had picked up a few points in early trading, sagged back to 772.45, up .16 from Tuesday's close.

"While stocks are probably the cheapest thing around right now, there just are other vehicles with higher safety and greater returns," said Ronald cooper of W.E. Hutton & Co., summing up the views of many brokers on the Street.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market-value Index at noon was up 1.03 at 75.82. Coit International topped trading, down ¼ at 1¼.

The Big Board's broad-based index of all its listed common stock was down .06 at 42.34.

NLT Corp., an insurance holding company, led NYSE trading, off ½ at 12¾.

Franciscan Community Meals Program Plans Expansion

Franciscan Community Meals Program in Pickaway County has progressed to the point where a third route is being planned. Each route can serve a maximum of eight people, who receive a hot, nourishing meal at noon each day Monday through Friday, delivered to their homes.

The people served are listed as clients and may be elderly, middle aged or young. The only criteria for being eligible is the actual need. It is an ideal service for a hospitalized person who can be discharged sooner with the prepared food being available.

The fee charged is only for the actual cost of the food. All delivery, bookkeeping, collections etc., is done by volunteer workers. All expenses other than the food cost are covered by donations from individuals and organizations. There are no paid staff members and no government funding is accepted.

Volunteers are needed for the proposed third route. Two people are needed each day for about one and one-half hours, between 11:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. Most volunteers serve once every two weeks, with some once a week. Non-drivers are needed to take the food from the car to the client's home.

Anyone wishing to serve in this program is urged to call Mrs. Lorene Carroll, co-ordinator for the program, at 474-4647.

Board members will be meeting at noon Monday to make chocolate covered pretzels to sell at Pickaway County Fair. Volunteers, other than board members, will be welcomed to help with this project.

For further information as to the Franciscan Community Meal service contact Mrs. Carroll. Special diets are prepared and likes and dislikes considered. A trial period of two weeks is permitted after which the client may cancel the service. Payment is made weekly.

Plans for the future include possible routes in rural areas. To do this it will be necessary to have a committee in each area to co-ordinate the work. With this in mind people from Ashville, Commercial Point, Darbyville, Five Points, Williamsport, Tarlton, Laurelville, Kingston, Stoutsville and Amanda may send one or more representatives to the next Franciscan Community Meals board meeting 10 a.m. July 18th in the Parish House of Trinity Lutheran Church, 135 E. Mound St., Circleville.

President, Top Adviors Continue Economic Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — His White House meetings with business and labor representatives, intended to focus the attention of "every responsible sector of society" on inflation and other economic problems, haven't amounted to "jawboning," economic coordinator Kenneth Rush says.

Jawboning would imply the administration was trying to head off specific price or wage hikes, Rush said Tuesday.

"In no case have I gone to a particular industry and said don't increase your price," he told reporters after meeting for 1½ hours with President Nixon, Treasury Secretary William E. Simon and other economic advisers.

Rush said Nixon will meet Thursday with some 19 top business leaders and 12 economists in a new effort to combat inflation. He said the session may be the first of a series involving the President.

No labor leaders have been invited to the meeting, Rush said, although he indicated they could be included in future meetings.

Rush said that during Nixon's meeting Tuesday with Simon and economic advisers, they talked about making new cuts in the 1975 federal budget in addition to the $5 billion they already hoped to trim.

He also said they considered proposals to help public utilities that are in financial trouble. He indicated some special assistance may be needed to help utilities expand to meet growing power needs. But it was clear from Rush's remarks that Nixon and his economic advisers did not come up with any fresh proposals to deal with inflation. He said inflation "is not something the government can just by turning off a switch do away with ..."

In another economic development, Simon leaves Thursday on a two-week trip to the Middle East and Europe, including stops in Egypt, Saudi Arabia, Kuwait, Israel, Germany, France and England.

A major purpose of the Middle East stops will be to engage the oil-producing countries in talks on how to invest their surplus oil earnings.

Sentence 3 In Murder Of Muslims

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Superior Court judge has meted out sentences of at least 140 years each against three Black Muslims convicted of murdering seven members of the Hanafi Moslem sect.

Imposing the prison terms Tuesday, Judge Leonard Braman called the 1973 execution-style bloodbath "an insult perpetrated on the laws of the Creator and on the laws of society."

Braman sentenced John Clark, 31, Theodore Moody, 21, and William Christian, 29, to seven consecutive life terms each —a minimum of 140 years in prison.

A fourth defendant, John Griffin, 28, was granted a new trial because Braman said he could not fairly say there was enough evidence against Griffin to convict him.

The judge said Griffin's conviction troubled him because it may have resulted from "a bandwagon effect tilted by the overwhelming amount of evidence against the other defendants."

Two adults, four infants and a 10-year-old boy were slain in January 1973 at the Hanafi headquarters in northwest Washington.

Federal Grant For Recreation

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The Cincinnati Recreation Commission announced Tuesday that it will receive an additional $750,000 federal grant toward the construction of a riverfront park downtown.

The commission had already received $250,000 in federal funds.

Cincinnatian Charles Sawyer has promised the donation of $1 million to match the federal funds.

18-Year-Olds Can Register By Mail

Eighteen-year-old men in Pickaway County will be able to register for the draft by mail rather than having to appear in person at a registrar's office, according to Ohio Selective Service Director Paul A. Corey.

"Now young men will have three options for fulfilling the registration requirement," Corey said. "They can register at a local board office with a volunteer registrar or by mail."

The law requires all male persons in the United States, except certain non-immigrant aliens, to register with Selective Service within the 60-day period starting 30 days prior to their 18th birthday.

Poster-box displays containing registration forms are available at the Circleville Post Office, Lockbourne Post Office, Commercial Point Post Office, Orient Post office, Derby Post Office, Williamsport Post Office, Ashville Post Office, and Harrisburg Post Office.

The nearest Selective Service Office is located at Federal Building, 85 Marconi Blvd., Columbus. Telephone number is 469-5722. Questions will be answered by Ms. Nina B. Riley, area office supervisoe.

A Page Of Opinion

Season Of Sneezes

Puerto Rico and Alaska have a delightfully uncommon bond: neither has enough ragweed to sneeze at.

In the continental United States, however, eight or 10 million victims of hay fever lay in a stock of nose tissues and join the annual chorus of sneezing and sniveling. Each season the villainous weed sneaks thousands of pounds of pollen into the air — each microscopic grain so buoyant that it can float great distances on the slightest zephyr.

Not a single state escapes the fallout. Ragweed grows with equal zest on beaches, prairies, pinelands, cultivated fields, roadsides and vacant city lots.

Science has not found an effective way to eradicate the prolific weed. Seeds may lie dormant for 20 years. Spots where the pollen count is negligible include the southern tip of Florida, New York's central Adirondacks, wooded areas of Maine, New Hampshire, northern Minnesota, regions west of the Cascade Mountains in Oregon and Washington, and the forests and desertlands of the Rocky Mountains.

Ragweed, ironically, bears a name of sweetest accord. Its genius is Ambrosia, a Greek word meaning food for the gods. Ragweed belongs to the attractive aster clan that includes among its members chrysanthemums and dahlias.

Ragweed seeds, like pollen, have a diabolical means of getting about. The plant likes to grow among grain. Its seeds are so similar in weight and size they have no trouble hitchhiking rides to new homes in grain shipments.

No Censorship Wanted

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — The TV networks did the nation a good turn when they showed, with a minimum of commentary, just what it might be like if the proponents of censorship were as powerful here as they are in the Soviet Union.

Russian monitors pulled the plugs on half a dozen attempts by American newsmen traveling with President Nixon to send news back home that reflected on Kremlin policies. The reaction of the monitors was swift and sure. One newsman who opened his news spot with "Andrei Sakharov . . ." got no further than the name of the renowned physicist who has spoken out against the U.S.S.R.'s limitations on exit visa for Jewish intellectuals and artists.

There is no "peoples right to know" clause in the Soviet constitution, no phrase such as "freedom of the press." Big Brother decides.

There seems to be some members of the Nixon Administration and in the Congress (and the constituencies) who think that would be dandy for the U.S. If that were the case, Watergate would still be only a place where Fr. John McLaughlin lives.

Censorship can be both chilling and ludicrous.

Years ago, an American correspondent in Moscow was called down to the censor's office in the Telegraph Office on Gorky Street. It was dead of night. A sentence in the reporter's story had come under heavy suspicion and an explanation was demanded — under pain of having his credentials picked up and told to leave the country.

The sentence read, "I stood within a stone's throw of Josef Stalin today at the May Day Parade."

"So what's wrong with that?" the writer asked.

"Why did you bring a stone to the parade?" the censor demanded.

"I didn't bring a stone to the parade," the man argued. "It's an expression. It means that I was standing close to Stalin."

There was a long impasse which the censor finally unblocked. The basic sentence would be sent as written, he ruled, provided it was amended to read, "I stood within a stone's throw of Josef Stalin today at the May Day Parade, but didn't throw it."

I got called in once for trying to compliment the manner of Nikita Khrushchev. My story described him thusly: "As comfortable as an old shoe."

"Are you trying to insinuate that Comrade Khrushchev wears old shoes?" the numbskull demanded obviously of the opinion that I was insulting the Russian standard of living.

"Would you consider changing this line voluntarily so that it would read, 'As comfortable as a new shoe.'"

I said that readers in the U.S. would laugh at that: new shoes are not as comfortable as old shoes.

He wouldn't buy it, so we struck one of the early ententes between the two great nuclear powers and it came out, "As comfortable as a shoe." Which meant that Khrushchev usually went around barefooted, I guess.

Russian censors will pass almost anything that reads like a compliment to Soviet technology and a downgrading of America's. I happened to be there with the Hearst Task Force when the Soviet automobile monopoly introduced the Volga, a compact that seemed to draw its inspiration from our old Henry J.

Each Volga came in two shades. In writing about it, I said something to the effect that the American carmakers must be a pretty stupid lot, never to have thought of using more than one color on our cars. The censor must have heartily agreed. He sent it right on.

Business World

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The surveys of consumer sentiment suggest that you are mired in pessimism about the economy and entangled in a dilemma over how to handle your personal finances.

You might say it doesn't take a survey to convey this truth to you—that you could pick up the same results in a few minutes at a supermarket checkout counter. Quite likely you are correct.

But it is the professional surveys, by the Survey Research Center at the University of Michigan, by Sindlinger & Co. of Swarthmore, Pa., and by The Conference Board which have the wider audience.

The surveys show, among other things, that you the consumer are struggling to make up your mind about whether to remain entrenched, saving what money you can, or to spend now to avoid still higher prices later.

During past periods of consumer pessimism, the Survey Research Center explains, opinions about spending also were unfavorable. People became aware that the rainy day might be just around the corner, and they saved for it.

This behavioral pattern helped explain in part the curious proliferation of bank outlets on almost every corner in some areas of cities while outlets of almost every other sort were complaining about poor business.

As anyone knows who has seen his favorite restaurant dispossessed by another pennant-waving, gift-giving savings bank, that tendency still persists. But it is being offset to some degree by the buy-in-advance psychology.

In May, for example, the Survey Research Center found that 40 per cent of respondents said it was a good time to buy large household goods, while only 22 per cent said it was a poor time to buy.

The percentages do not total 100 per cent because some respondents answered "don't know" and others gave answers that fit neither yes or no categories.

Behind the buy-now thrust is the growing cynicism of many Americans who feel that little economic good can come to them by practicing the old-fashioned virtue of thrift so long as prices continue to rise. And they believe they will rise.

A widespread lack of faith in government combines with the sense of hopelessness about inflation to produce the pessimism that is so commonly reported now by the surveyors.

Rule Nixon Overstepped Authority

NEW YORK (AP) — U.S. Customs Court has ruled that President Nixon overstepped his authority in ordering a 10 per cent surcharge on dutiable imports in 1971. It said the government must refund $500 million to importers.

A Justice Department official says the decision probably will be appealed.

A special three-judge Customs Court panel ruled unanimously on Monday that in imposing the surcharge Nixon "used a power beyond the scope of any authority delegated to him by the Congress."

The surcharge, designed to reverse an unfavorable balance of payments with foreign nations, was part of Nixon's Phase I economic controls and remained in effect four months.

"Neither need nor national emergency will justify the exercise of a power by the Executive not inherent in his office nor delegated by the Congress," wrote Chief Judge Nils A. Boe in the main opinion.

The government has 60 days in which to file an appeal with the Court of Customs and Patent Appeals in Washington. No refunds would change hands until such an appeal is ruled on.

The surcharge was in effect from Aug. 16 to Dec. 20, 1971. It was lifted after a number of foreign countries agreed to currency adjustments that would help the United States with its balance of payments problem.

It was the Yoshida case which was decided on Monday.

Although importers successfully protested to the government that they should be allowed to pass on the cost of the extra duty to consumers, the importers do not appear to be under any requirement to similarly pass along to consumers the refunds they may get, a Treasury Department spokesman said.

State Earns Record $74 Million Interest

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Treasurer Gertrude Donahey said Monday the state earned a record $74 million in interest income during the fiscal year ending June 30.

She said the earnings totaled $24 million more than her office had anticipated and attributed the high amount to "careful investments and good interest rates." The previous year's total was $40.6 million.

25 YEARS AGO

About one-fifth of autos that travelled on S. Court St. were found to be in an unsafe condition. Circleville police and state highway patrolmen joined forces to throw up an extensive safety check road block. A total of 335 vehicles were inspected with 282 passing.

Circleville Police station was a madcap of swinging fists and flying bodies for a few minutes. The ruckus began when rookie Ptl. Earl Wallace arrested a Circleville man for reckless operation. When Wallace attempted to book the man, he bolted and tried to escape through a screened window. Another officer collared the man, but a passer-by jumped on Wallace's back to join in the fight. Wallace, an ex-marine trained in judo, quickly took charge and had the man in the pokey.

Dr. George Heffner, Circleville's oldest general practitioner, turned the fight to treat Circleville's aches and pains and epidemics over to the youngsters when he retired after 53 years of service. He began doctoring in 1896.

The weatherman told Circleville residents to break out the blankets after a cold spell threatened to linger in the area. Temperatures plummeted to 56 degrees for several days.

Nobody Has Any Money

NEW YORK (AP) → A series of meetings with each of the city's five borough presidents has been set up by City Council President Paul O'Dwyer, to try to save the free concert performances of opera by the Metropolitan Opera in parks during the summer.

O'Dwyer said that $400,000 is needed. He added, "The city has no money and the Met has no money and the purpose of these exploratory meetings will be to discuss ways in which each borough could raise the necessary funds."

The Met has been giving from eight to 12 free performances in city parks each summer since 1967.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Sometimes when eating an ordinary meal I find it difficult to swallow. In fact, I must even take water to be sure that the food goes down. What is my problem?

Mr. T.W.B., Calif.

Dear Mr. B.:

I think your greatest problem is that you have not done anything about your difficulty in swallowing. You should consult your physician. This is the obvious way to start solving your problem.

Difficulty in swallowing is a frequent complaint. To many it can become frightening.

When food leaves the mouth it passes through the esophagus which leads directly into the stomach. This delicately lined tube can be affected by infections, inflammations, injuries, tumors, pockets (diverticulae) and hiatus hernia.

Of course, any treatment must be based on the determination of its exact cause. Special studies by X-ray can determine the specific reason for difficulty in swallowing.

I am confused. My husband has been told that he has a "tennis elbow" which accounts for his pain. He does not play tennis.

Mrs. N.A., Wis.

Dear Mrs. A.:

"Tennis elbow" is a bursitis or inflammation of the protective sac in the elbow.

Such bursae are present to make joints movable.

The stress and strain of tennis is the most frequent reason for the pain and limitation of motion of the elbow. This is how the name originated. Any other type of continued injury can produce the same symptoms.

Some occupations can be responsible for similar injuries.

Unsuspected gout may be another reason for the distress you describe. A simple test for the possibility of high uric acid in the blood can rule out gout.

The treatment for tennis elbow is very effective. With rest, injections of cortisone and a wide variety of other drugs, each individually chosen for specific cases, the relief is gratifying.

Free and worthless advice:

Find a parked police car and let the air out of the tires. Put on a T-shirt, a pair of shorts, a number on your back, and jog to the grocery store. Break up laughing at the saddest part of a movie.

Send a package of grenades to the Irish — either side. Book yourself on a cruise and pay with your best friend's credit card. Call a pal at his office and whisper, "Bet you don't know where your wife is right now."

Become a bank teller, go to lunch, and never come back. Stamp out first marriages. Campaign for mass vasectomies in China. When the kids start telling you how to live, yank them out of college. Be a real sport: get V.D.

Drive your wife nuts: send flowers on a day that has no meaning. Ask Jeb Magruder how much more he's earning in jail on his book than he was paid in the White House. Save electricity: take the bulb out of the refrigerator.

If you are lonesome, faint at a bus stop. Chop the middle finger off hippie drivers. Ask Father John McLaughlin: "What's a nice boy like you doing in a place like that?" Be obnoxious — say yes to everybody.

Buy a diet book, don't read it, eat it. Pay for a tank full of gas in pennies. Get the goods on the Democrats. If you're a golfer, surprise your buddies, tee off with a putter. If you're a writer, stop.

Send a child to Saudi Arabia for the summer. Ask your Congressman to check the income tax of I.R.S. agents. Give Pat Nixon four martinis and see what happens. Demand that Germany and Japan support us.

Send away for a kit and build your own automobile in the garage. Run Nixon for president of Egypt. Ask the school principal why Johnny can't spell, then try to decipher the reply. Never admit to your family that you failed to make the White House "Enemies" list.

Buy a suit in Hong Kong, shake hands, and watch the sleeve fall off. Ask Clifford Irving to help Ehrlichman with his autobiography. Invite sunny Sam Ervin to your bible class.

Find out why the mafia is in honest business while the statesmen are stealing. Join the army and see the barracks. Become a Jesus Freak; if you are one, quit and find a rich guru. Stop telling little ones to save their pennies; there are no pennies.

Ask grandpa what a smoker was in his day. Get rid of relatives and friends painlessly — write a book about them. Stop smoking, drinking, late hours, wenching and die of a rare malady — boredom. If you're a garbage collector, attract the attention due you — go to work in a ballroom gown.

If you're a pretty girl, punch your kid brother for the way he looks at you. Start a big brawl, go to a tavern and talk politics two ways. Tell Pete Rodino you're going to name a racing greyhound after him. Ask the press to stop referring to White House personnel as buggers.

Remember, the deeper you go into debt, the more people pray for your good health. Teacher should explain the word "condominium" to students, if they are old enough to misunderstand. Avoid disagreeable work.

Pay a plastic sergeon to plaster a permanent smile on your kisser. Be grouchy; idiots confuse it with wisdom. Don't throw your old junk jewelry away — send it to Jackie Onassis.

Buy your own gold mine and learn to live like a mole. Send a box of cigars to Castro. Stand in a long line at a supermarket with an empty basket.

Have fun. Live a little. Be nuts; did sanity every do anything for you? . . .

O'Grady Beaned

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Eugene P. O'Grady, manager of Gov. John Gilligan's re-election campaign, spent three days in the hospital last week after being hit on the head with a golf ball, it was learned Monday.

The incident happened July 1 at the Bolton Field golf course near Columbus. O'Grady instructed his staff to keep the incident quiet, but word leaked out Monday.

O'Grady, former state Democratic chairman who is on leave of absence from his job as state highway safety director, said he was hit by a ball stroked by a retired man, whose name he did not know.

"It knocked me flat on my face," O'Grady said. "I remember fighting like hell to stay conscious and I walked around in circles for two or three minutes until I got my eyes in focus."

O'Grady spent three days in a hospital for treatment of a concussion and minute skull fracture. Monday was his first day back on the job.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Don't Pussyfoot With Catfood

DEAR ABBY: There is something I need to know but I'm too embarrassed to ask anyone else, so I'm asking you: For years I've heard that in order for catfood and dogfood to be sold in grocery stores, it has to be fit for human consumption.

Well, I know that tuna is rich in protein, and with regular tuna fish so expensive, I tried making a casserole with catfood tuna. My family really went for it. I hid the cans so nobody would know what I had done.

My family has been asking me to make that special tuna casserole "like the last time," but I'm worried. Is there something in catfood that will harm humans? The price is certainly right, but I don't want to take any chances with my family's health. Please advise me.

SLIGHTLY WORRIED

DEAR SLIGHTLY: I didn't pussyfoot around, I went right to the leading catfood manufacturers, and the word from them is: "Don't serve catfood to humans."

DEAR ABBY: Please don't think this is a stupid question, but can an unwed mother join Parents Without Partners? And if so, how do I go about finding out if there is a chapter near me? Thank-you.

INTERESTED

DEAR INTERESTED: Parents Without Partners, Inc. is for divorced parents, separated parents, unwed parents and widowed parents. In other words, it's for any and single parents living with children. Look for their telephone number in your directory. Or write to their International Headquarters: 7910 Woodmont Ave., Washington, D.C. 20014.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I bought a lovely suburan home. I became friendly with a neighbor who taught me a lot about gardening. She and I liked each other.

Suddenly my husband became deperately ill. He fought hard to live, but it was terminal. During his illness, this neighbor came over often to cheer me up. After my husband died, my neighbor came over. I told her how grateful I was to her for all she had done, then she said: "May I ask a big favor of you?" Then she asked if I would SELL her a bracelet I had. I told her it was a gift from my husband, and I didn't want to sell it.

Abby, she begged and begged, telling me how much she liked that bracelet, so I finally agreed to let her have it for $150-exactly what my husband had paid for it some 15 years before.

Well, that woman wore the bracelet constantly. Finally, I couldn't bear to see it on her, so I asked her to please, please sell it back to me. At first she refused. Then she said she would-for $500! (It's worth $350 in today's market, but the money isn't important.)

The thought of that greedy woman wearing my memories on her wrist makes me sick. What would you do?

WRONGED

DEAR WRONGED: I'd buy the bracelet back, before she raises the price.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

2 Counties OK Garbage Service

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP) — Two Southeastern Ohio counties have given tentative approval to a 10-county garbage collection service.

Eight other counties — Gallia, Vinton, Lawrence, Pike, Scioto, Adams, Highland and Brown — will be asked to okay a proposal by the Ohio Valley Regional Development Commission.

The plan would provide containers for collection of trash at many points throughout the region.

Ross and Jackson counties have taken the first step toward the massive trash pickup by approving a feasibility study for one year.

Report Less Vegetables Being Planted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farmers who grow fresh vegetables for city markets have cut back plantings of 14 summer crops, meaning that some favorites such as sweet corn and cucumbers will be in shorter supply over the next three months.

The Agriculture Department says those producers expect to have 360.150 acres for harvest during July, August and September. That is down 2 per cent from 368,000 acres harvested last summer.

A report issued Monday showed the broccoli harvest in California, for example, will be down 47 per cent from last year. In June, an earlier report said, the farm price of broccoli — from production during the spring — soared to a record high of $19.90 per 100 pounds. A year earlier the vegetable averaged $15.50 per 100 pounds.

The summer crop of sweet corn is expected to be harvested from 106,500 acres, down from 109,900 last year. Excessive rain fall has been a problem in some areas, the report said.

Other crop acreages expected to be down from last summer include carrots, celery, cucumbers, escarole, spinach and tomatoes. But increases are indicated for snap beans, cabbage, cauliflower, eggplant, lettuce and green peppers, officials said.

And for melon eaters, more bad news: the total summer acreages for cantaloupes, watermelons and honeydew melons will be 198,000 acres, down 15 per cent from last year.

Claims Courts Help Consumers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — This year's legislature not only tried to help consumers by outlawing certain shabby sales practices. It also called on the court system to get involved.

Rep. Alan E. Norris, R-27 Westerville, sponsored a nonpartisan bill that will encourage and make it easier for Ohioans to get their money back from unscrupulous merchants and salesmen.

Effective next September 30, Ohio's small claims courts — those that hear claims for recovery of amounts up to $300 — will be required to assist consumers who get gyped and think they should get their money back.

John Gilchrist, a lobbyist for the Ohio State Legal Services Association, said that at present, consumers don't know how to go about using small claims courts even though they may be aware of their existence.

Existing law requires every municipal and county court to establish a small claims court, so the place to inquire is the county courthouse or city hall, he explains.

"Small claims courts in Ohio were created for the ordinary citizen who desires to settle a dispute with a business, individual, or corporation," Gilchrist said, adding that they usually are "fast, informal, and inexpensive."

A major advantage from the standpoint of money is that a consumer doesn't have to have an attorney. Under the new law, the court is required to assist the consumer in the preparation of his complaint—something an attorney usually has to do.

Some of the things that can be recovered for are defective merchandise, a security deposit held by a landlord, a debt, or a complaint against a contractor.

In the past, the plaintiff, on some occasions, has been unable to collect even though he obtained a favorable verdict because fees for an attorney might exceed the amount being sought. The new law changes that too. It requires the small claims court to assist the consumer in the filling out of legal papers needed to collect the judgment.

Otherwise this year, in the consumer area, the legislature voted to outlaw certain door-to-door and mail schemes designed to bilk the consumer, altered the policing of weights and measures, and required labeling to guarantee shelf life of foods, among other things.

2 Medium Cantaloupe
1 Pkg. (8 ounces) Cream Cheese, Softened
1 Can (1 Pound, 1 Ounce) Pitted Dark Sweet Cherries, drained (reserve syrup)
1 tsp. grated lemon peel
¼ cup toasted slivered blanched almonds

Cut thin slice from one end of each cantaloupe so they will stand upright. Slice other end of each cantaloupe until seeds are exposed. Scoop out seeds. Place each cantaloupe upright in bowl; freeze 3 hours or until cavity is slightly icy.

In small mixer bowl, beat cream cheese until smooth. Add 2 tablespoons of the reserved cherry syrup and the lemon peel; beat until fluffy. Stir in cherries and almonds; fill each cantaloupe.

Return to freezer just until filling is hardened, about 3 hours. Just before serving, cut each cantaloupe crosswise into 4 slices. Makes 8 servings.

Ohio Was Home Of Highly Developed Ceremonial Cultures

Long ago, before the dawn of recorded history, Ohio was the home of a number of highly developed ceremonial cultures. These peoples became commonly known as the "mound builders" because of the giant earthen burial and effigy mounds they constructed with only the most primitive of tools. Today, a pleasant drive through some of Ohio's most beautiful countryside can take you back to three of the state's earliest yesterdays in Southern Ohio.

This journey back to the home of prehistoric man begins in the valley of the Paint Creek on U. S. 50, three miles east of Bainbridge. This is the site of Seip Mound, a huge burial mound 250 feet long, 150 feet wide, and 30 feet high.

Seip was once the central earthwork in the largest Hopewell Indian mound complex in the state. In 1930, the mound was excavated by a team of archaeologists and the richest assortment of artifacts ever discovered in an Ohio mound was unearthed. Many of the treasures, such as pearl and copper ornaments, are now on display in the Ohio Historical Center in Columbus.

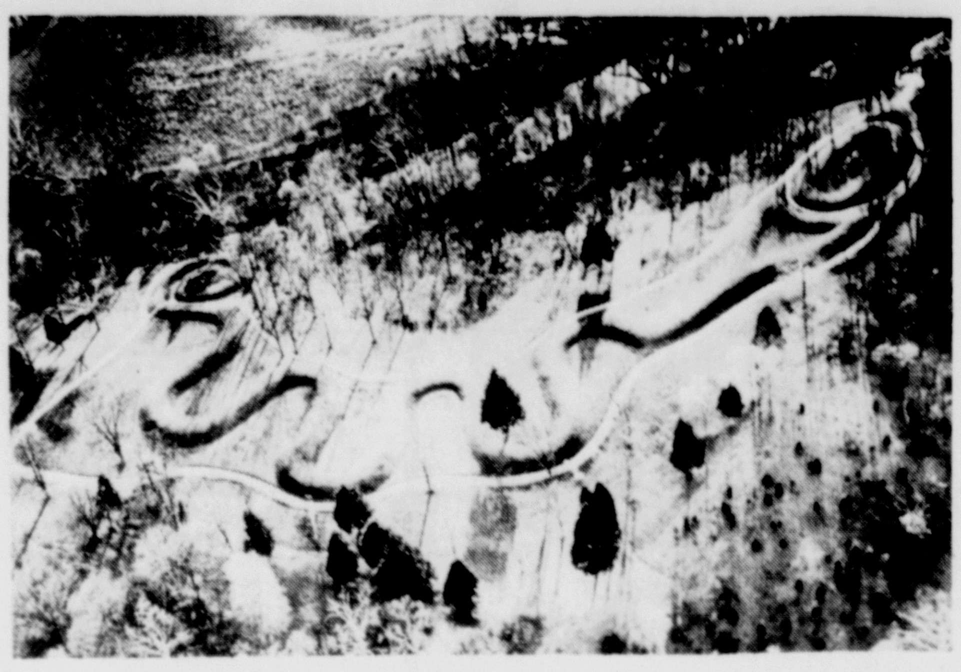
For decades, it was thought that the 1930 excavation yielded all that was to be found at Seip. But recently, a team of Ohio Historical Society archaeologists conducted a new dig at the site and with amazing results. A totally new complex of buildings was discovered at the base of the main mound. Their research produced a series of at least four nearly square structures with covered or screeded entryways. The extensive artifact remains found within each building confirmed that these were ceremonial workshops where priest-leaders manufactured mica ornaments and other ceremonial regalia.

Visitors at Seip today will see the houses indicated by a series of round posts inserted into the ground just above the beams of the actual Hopewell buildings.

Several years ago, a new pagoda-like open exhibit pavilion was constructed at Seip. Visitors can see how this most recent archaeological dig was conducted and discover more about the Hopewell Indians who lived in the valley of Paint Creek.

But the Hopewells constructed mounds not only for burial, but for their defense. South of Seip Mound, on U.S. 41 in Highland County, these Indians selected a high, isolated butte with steep,easily defended slopes to construct a major fortification, now known as Fort Hill.

Forty acres of land are encircled with a defensive wall built from the earth removed from a moat constructed within the outer mound. The resulting perimeter wall was more than a mile-and-a-half in length and ranged in height from six to fifteen feet. Thirty-three irregularly spaced openings were included in the fort for some unknown reason.



SERPENT MOUND—Located in Adams County, Serpent Mound is the largest and best preserved snake effigy in America. The Ohio Historical Society maintains the park and a small museum there.

Today, Fort Hill embraces more than 1,100 acres crisscrossed by 16 miles of nature trails. 2,000 foot trail leads directly to the hilltop fortification. Fort Hill is alive with beautiful plants, trees, and flowers scattered on and in the site's hillsides and scenic gorges. An open picnic area with tables and a shelter house is nestled in a tidy park where a small, clear water stream bubbles over a series of rapids.

Adjacent to the picnic area is the Fort Hill Museum, carefully designed to blend, rather than clash, with the natural beauty of this lovely area. The museum's colorful exhibits cover the Hopewell Indians who built the fort and the natural history of the Fort Hill area.

The final stop on this tour of Yesterday Getaways is just south of Fort Hill on State Route 73 in Adams County. This is the site of one of America's most mysterious effigys — the Serpent Mound.

This ceremonial earthwork, made of stone and yellow clay, meanders back and forth across the countryside for 1,335 feet, like a giant snake in the act of uncoiling. Within its earthen jaws is an egg-shaped mound 86 feet by 30 feet.

No one is certain why the Adena Indians, who built Serpent Mound, selected a snake for their design, but most believe it is because the serpent has played a major role in many of the prominent religions of the world. The snake has represented either a benevolent deity or evil force and, to many ancient peoples, the yearly shedding of the skin from the snake represented eternity and the renewal of life.

Excavations at the Serpent Mound have never produced any burials, tools or ornaments. The digs did show however, that the outline of the snake was carefully and methodically laid out by placing stones and large lumps of clay on the original surface of the ground. Then baskets of dirt were carried to the site and piled over the pattern.

A 60-foot observation tower at Serpent Mound allows visitors a spectacular view of the snake from an area near its coiled tail. Paved walkways surround the mound on all sides.

Serpent Mound, like Fort Hill, is blessed with a bounty of natural beauty, including a scenic gorge. A short nature trail winds its way through some of the more striking features of the area.

A small museum on the Adena Indians who built the mound between 1,000 B.C. and 700 A.D. is open from April through October.

Seip, Fort Hill and Serpent Mounds are open year-round during the daylight hours. The museum at Fort Hill is open daily, except Monday, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., March through November.

Rail Crossing Tests Slated

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio is among the 25 states participating in a national experiment to reduce the number of car-train accidents at poorlymarked, rural crossings.

J. Phillip Richley, director of the Ohio Department of Transportation said the national tests hope to determine the effectiveness of at least 12 different types of signs. Several of the signs will be installed at crossings in two southern Ohio counties.

According to the department, three sites at rural crossings in Fayette County have been selected, along with two in Highland County.

Electronic sensors in the roadway will measure reactions of motorists to the different signs.

The Department of Transportation said an average of 97 Ohioans are killed each year in train-motor vehicle accidents.

Blind Magician Makes Mark With Real Sleight Of Hand

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Nigel Richards can't depend on marked cards or secret signals when he names the card a person picks. The 16-year-old magician is blind.

"You never can tell when something could go wrong and show up in front of people," says the Fort Lauderdale youth.

But he says he really has an advantage over sighted magicians.

"They have preconceived ideas and think that everything is done with secret compartments," he says. "I had to start from scratch. It really is sleight of hand."

Richards refuses to divulge any of his secrets, but he says he can do any kind of card trick and most conventional tricks such as cutting and restoring ropes and producing a string of handkerchiefs from a pocket.

Richards, who performs at parties, admits there are a few magical tricks he still has to perfect. However, he says there isn't one that his blindness prevents him from doing.

"I just have to get over my stage fright," he says. "I'm always afraid of fouling up somewhere."

Richards, an outstanding math and science student, says he became interested in magic when a friend told him about a man who could make things disappear.

"I know things can't just disappear because Newton's law says that matter can neither be created or destroyed," he says.

"So I decided I could do it myself."

Day Care Provided

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Day care for more than 2,200 children whose mothers were working or learning job skills through Ohio's Work Incentive program was provided by the state Department of Public Welfare in the first three months of 1974.

Riegle Has Favorites In Challenge Stakes

The Gene Riegle stable moves front and center Thursday night at Scioto Downs, with the early pre-race choices in both divisions of the $26,600 Challenge Stakes for two-year-old pacers.

Riegle, currently in danger of having his seven straight leading driver titles come to an end, has the early choice in the first 10-horse division with the speedy Omaha Kid and Knowing Cognac.

In the second division, Riegle has the early favorite with the national season champion juvenile pacing colt over a five-eights mile, the brilliant Byllet Bluecrest.

Scioto's Director of Racing John Phillips has compiled an outstanding 10-race card Thursday night that will include something for everyone.

In addition to the two divisions of the Challenge Stakes, Phillips has carded a two-year-old Pace for a purse of $2,000 that attracted the new pacing sensation at Scioto, Fair Honey, and Dick Farrington's prize Bret Hanover colt, Dance Contessa, a $66,000 yearling.

Also catering to the pacing buffs, Phillips has planned a five-eights mile distance pace for $2,000 and for the trotting fanciers, Phillips has put together a mile and a quarter trot for a purse of $2,200.

The Challenge Stakes by no means will be a romp for Riegle.

In the tougher second division, Riegle's colt, Bullet Bluecrest, became the fastest two-year-old pacing juvenile in the nation with a burst of speed that ended in victory in 2:02 1-5. And the brave bay son of Bullet Hanover will need all his speed to contend with Lindy's Laodocia, the swift-gaited son Overtrick, driven by Mike Zeller. Owned by the Lindy's stable of Lindenhurst, New York, Lindy's Laodecia has won three of seven starts, and zipped to a new mark of 2:04 3-5 last week.

The man who threatens to end Riegle's seven-year reign as leading driver at Scioto, Joe O'Brien, has a powerful contender in Kar Hanover, the bay son of Tar Heel, owned by O'Brien and Archie Mudge of Hanover, Pa. Dick Brandt has a solid youngster in the odd named Heraclytis, the promising Lang Hanover colt, Dennis Lacey has the Big Red Shadow, and Charlie Jordan has the converted Speedy Scot pacer Scottish Dean with a 2:06 2-5 win at Lexington, Kentucky.

Riegle's raiders in the first division, Omaha Kid and Knowing Cognac, are a promising pair of juvenile pacers. Omaha Kid has two wins and a second in only three starts, and Knowing Cognac, a blistering bay son of Columbia George with a win, two seconds, and a third in four starts.

One of Ohio's leading drivers, Lew Williams will counter with Jilley, a Bay and Large colt, and Jim Arledge has the speedy Hoosier Buckeye, owned by Dr. and Mrs. Jerry Maloon of Columbus.

Yankees Bomb Kansas City

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

Suddenly the runs are coming for the New York Yankees.

The Yankees, who scored only 19 runs in 11 games a while ago, have erupted for 45 in their last five starts, including Tuesday night's 8-2 pounding of the Kansas City Royals.

Manager Bill Virdon said he doesn't know why, but added, "Whatever it is, I'd keep doing it.

"But really, this is closer to what we should be doing," Virdon said. "They say everything evens up ... I'd settle for leveling off—nine or 10 hits a game, plus some runs."

Elsewhere in the American League, the Boston Red Sox nipped the Texas Rangers 2-1, the Milwaukee Brewers edged the Chicago White Sox 6-5, the Minnesota Twins trimmed the Detroit Tigers 3-2 in 11 innings, the Oakland A's blanked the Cleveland Indians 7-0 and the Baltimore Orioles beat the California Angels 3-1.

Red Sox 2, Rangers 1

Luis Tiant and Jim Bibby hooked up in a basic, old-fashioned pitching duel in Boston, and Tiant came out on top.

Bibby, the Texas Rangers' hard-throwing young righthander, fired a six-hitter but it wasn't good enough as Tiant allowed just four hits in pitching the Red Sox to victory.

Brewers 6, White Sox 5

Big George Scott drove in four runs for the Brewers, finally winning the game with his ninth home run of the season leading off the ninth inning. Earlier, Scott three times had driven home rookie Robin Young.

Jorge Orta belted a three-run homer for the White Sox.

Twins 3, Tigers 2

Harmon Killebrew drove in the winning run in the 11th inning with a single off Detroit relief ace John Hiller.

The Tigers, who suffered their fourth consecutive loss, had tied the score with two out in the ninth on Bill Freehan's RBI single.

Orioles 3, Angels 1

Boog Powell drove in two runs and Mike Cuellar and Bob Reynolds combined on a four-hitter for the Orioles, who moved into a flat-footed tie with Clevland for first place in the AL East.

It was the fourth consecutive victory and seventh in eight games for the Orioles. The Angels have lost 10 in a row, including nine since Dick Williams took over as manager.

A's 7, Indians 0

Jim "Catfish" Hunter spun a three-hitter for his second successive shutout, raising his season's record to 12-8 and boosting the first-place A's lead over Kansas City in the AL West to 4½ games.

Joe Rudi drove in three runs and Reggie Jackson two for Oakland, while Pat Bourque hit his first home run of the season.

Dodgers Triumph Over Phillies

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

Today's Quickie Quiz, sports fans, is a multiple-choice question that's really not a multiplechoice question.

Q: Mike Marshall (a) did, (b) did not, pitch in the Los Angeles Dodgers' 8-4 triumph over the Philadelphia Phillies Tuesday night.

Even the class dunce knows there's only one answer to that. Of course Marshall pitched ... for the 58th time this season. But don't get the idea the Dodgers' relief ace is overworked.

"He had a day of rest," explained Manager Walter Alston.

Elsewhere in the National League, the Cincinnati Reds outslugged the Chicago Cubs 8-5, the Houston Astros beat the St. Louis Cardinals 5-2, the Montreal Expos edged the San Francisco Giants 5-4, the Pittsburgh Pirates nipped the Atlanta Braves 5-4 and the San Diego Padres shaded the New York Mets 5-4.

Reds 8, Cubs 5

The Reds smashed six home runs, including a three-run shot by George Foster in the sixth inning after five solo shots in the first three innings—Joe Morgan in the first, Tony Perez and Cesar Geronimo in the second and Dan Driessen and Johnny Bench in the third. The first five all came off Steve Stone. Rick Monday and Jose Cardenal homered for the Cubs.

"They didn't pick on any one pitch," sighed Stone. "They hit them all."

Astros 5, Cardinals 2

Lee May hammered two home runs and Dave Roberts fired a six-hitter as Houston handed St. Louis its fourth consecutive setback.

The Cardinals staked John Curtis to a 2-0 lead in the first two innings, but May smashed his first homer in the bottom of the second and Curtis was chased in the fourth when the Astros scored twice more.

Expos 5, Giants 4

Tim Foli's two-run single capped a four-run third inning for Montreal and Mike Jorgensen homered in the fifth for what proved to be the winning run.

Winning pitcher Dennis Blair started the uprising with a single off loser Tom Bradley.

Pirates 5, Braves 4

Manny Sanguillen's two-run double keyed a four-run fourth inning outburst that helped Ken Brett to his 11th victory.

Brett, who is known as much—if not more—for his hitting than his pitching, set up what proved to be the winning run with a hit-and-run single in the seventh.

Padres 5, Mets 4

Fred Kendall drove in three runs with a double and single and Dave Roberts socked a two-run homer for San Diego.

The Padres built a 5-1 lead and then withstood a three-run homer in the ninth by New York's Ron Hodges.

WFL Opens League Play Tonight

By JOHN NELSON
AP Sports Writer

The World Football League begins play tonight in five U.S. cities with an anticipated attendance of 167,000 in stadia with a total of 297,000 seats.

The WFL will parade its orange-and-gold football onto Soldier Field, where Chicago entertains Houston; Memorial Stadium, where Memphis hosts Detroit; John F. Kennedy Stadium, the site of Philadelphia's home stand against Portland, Legion Field, where Birmingham entertains Southern California, and Orlando's Tangerine Bowl, where Florida hosts the Hawaiians.

In a nationally televised game Thursday night in the Gator Bowl, hometown Jacksonville plays New York.

Owner Bill Putnam of the Birmingham Americans is the most optimistic, envisioning between 50,000-60,000 fans to nearly fill his 70,000-seat Legion Field, while the Florida Blazers appear to have the least to be optimistic about. They have been relegated to the smallest opening-night WFL stadium, the 27,000-seat Tangerine Bowl, and anticipate around 10,000 spectators.

Chicago Fire owner Tom Origer thinks he can attract 35,000 to opening night at 55,000-seat Soldier Field and Philadelphia business manager Ken Bogdanoff says 32,000 will attend the Bell's opening night at 90,000-seat John F. Kennedy Stadium.

Memphis General Manager Leo Cahill forecasts an attendance of between 25,000-30,000 for opening night at 55,000-seat Memorial Stadium, and the Jacksonville Sharks feel they can attract 30,000 to their opener Thursday at the Gator Bowl.

League officials and WFL Commissioner Gary Davidson are optimistic that an innovative WFL will draw support. There are owners in the league willing to absorb first-year losses in anticipation of picking up some National Football League stars in 1975.

Among the new-look features the league is offering fans are newly designed uniforms which the league combined in buying on a "color-coordinated" basis and radical changes in some hallowed football traditions, such as the new seven-point touchdown.

Punt receivers may find things tougher for them, since the WFL has banned the fair catch.

Kickoffs will be from the 30-yard line, and missed field goals beyond the 20-yard line will be returned to scrimmage.

Wide receivers will be able to catch a pass with one foot out of bounds, and running backs will be allowed to go in forward motion before the snap. Extra points will be run or passed instead of kicked, and overtime periods will be used to break ties.

The WFL will play most of its games during midweek to avoid competition with college football on Saturday and the NFL on Sundays and Mondays. The season ends Nov. 29 with the World Bowl championship at Jacksonville, Fla.

A's Coaches Are Fired Despite Win

OAKLAND (AP) —It was turmoil as usual for the world champion Oakland A's. But this time, it was the baseball club's coaching staff that was causing it.

Veteran coaches Irv Noren and Vern Hoscheit were fired immediately following the A's 7-0 win over the Cleveland Indians Tuesday night.

"This is no refection on their ability," said Manager Alvin Dark. "I want my own people as coaches."

Dark immediately named Bobby Winkles and Bob Hoffman as the replacements for the departed coaches. Winkles was fired 10 days ago as manager of the California Angels. Hoffman was a minor league manager in the A's organization.

Hoscheit had some angry words for both Dark and A's owner Charles O. Finley concerning his firing.

"Finley is no good and neither is the manager. Finley said we would all get raises after the World Series and we didn't."

Hoscheit also said Dark was "not a good manager."

Noren had a run-in with Dark earlier this season over a mixup in signals.

"He said I was giving the players the wrong signals," Noren said. "I've got too much class to do that and I wouldn't do anything to hurt the players."

Helwagen Shoots Low Gross 34

Bruce Helwagen fired a 34 to capture low gross honors during the Pickaway Country Club Tuesday Men's League action this week. Low net score was recorded by Sid Sanders with a 30.

Team No. 1 scored 18½ points and with one week remaining in the second round leads with 65½ points. Team No. 3 has 62 points and Team No. 2, 57.

Members of Team No. 1 are Bruce Helwagen, Ron Berlin, George Hamrick, Paul Butz, Mark Lackey, Carl Radcliff, Warner Timmons and Walter Hall.

The Sherry brothers are managing minor league baseball teams. Ex-pitcher Larry pilots the Charleston, W. Va., Pirates in the Western Carolinas League and ex-catcher Norman manages the Salt Lake City Angels in the Pacific Coast League.

Little Motion Seen In NFL Strike

By BEN THOMAS
AP Sports Writer

As the warring sides in the pro football strike continued their "Alphonse and Gaston" routine today, the fate of the 1974 College All-Star Game hung in the balance.

Management said it was ready to meet, but ...

The striking football players union said it was ready to meet, but ...

And Chicago Tribune Charities, sponsor of the College All-Star Game, said it would hold a news conference tonight—9 p.m., EDT—to announce the fate of the 1974 contest. An ultimatum had been issued Monday by the agency of the Chicago newspaper giving both sides in the dispute 48 hours to make ironclad assurances that the July 26 All-Star Game would be played without interference.

The old "Alphonse and Gaston" routine, you will recall, is "After you." "No you first." And so on.

That is exactly how the warring sides sounded in exchanges in the early morning hours today.

The National Football League Management Council, bargaining agency of the 26 club owners of the NFL, repeated that it was ready to resume negotiations and claimed that the NFL Players Association, which went on strike July 1, was stalling.

The NFLPA said, in effect, the opposite.

The union wants management to come to the bargaining table wihh 63 counterproposals, in writing, to the 63 demands the union made when talks broke off some 10 days before the strike started. Management says it wants to talk about it.

"There will not be any meeting between the owners and the players because Jim Scearce, the federal mediator, said he couldn't assure any kind of meeting except on Friday, so there won't be a meeting," Ed Garvey, the NFLPA executive director, told The Associated Press in Washington early today.

In New York, John Thompson, executive director of the owners' bargaining unit, countered: "It is totally and grossly unfair when Garvey says we won't meet until Friday.

"If there is not going to be a meeting between the owners and the players, it only confirms the intent of Ed Garvey and the union to destroy the All-Star Game," Thompson added.

Neither side would officially say what the significance of Friday had to do with the resumption of talks, but it was learned that management negotiators had told Scearce on Monday that labor lawyer Theodore Kheel, counsel for the NFLMC, had long ago scheduled a mid-week trip, not connected with the strike, to California.

NFLMC sources said Kheel would have canceled his trip if it appeared that the two sides would start talking again, but he went ahead with his plans when the federal mediator couldn't get Garvey to agree to new negotiations.

Leroy Kelly Acquired By Raiders

CLEVELAND (AP) — Leroy Kelly may have found a new home.

Kelly has been the mainstay of the Cleveland Browns running attack for the better part of the last 10 years. He was placed on waivers by the Browns on June 25.

The 32-year-old running back was claimed off the waiver list Tuesday by the Oakland Raiders.

"Leroy goes with my very best wishes," said Browns owner Art Modell. "Putting him on waivers was done with his complete knowledge and accord."

Kelly, one of the few backs who has gained more than 10,000 yards, was dropped from the Browns plans after last season in order to give the younger backs the opportunities.

Kelly had previously indicated his desire to retire after last season, but several months ago told Modell that he believed he could play another two years. He told Modell that he would rather be traded to a team where he would have a chance to play instead of sitting on the bench for the Browns.

His attorney, Carl Character, two weeks ago said that Kelly had been contacted by several clubs in the new World Football League.

Kelly picked up the Browns' running reins after Jim Brown retired, beginning with the 1966 season.

Costello Now Shula Assistant

MIAMI (AP) — "We're all tough, we're all tough," yelled the new coach in the Miami Dolphins' training camp.

"Learn good habits," he barked at would-be professional linebackers, and demonstrated by fending off imaginary blockers with extended arms and an occasional forearm thrust. "Get to that ball. You guys make your living by getting to that ball."

Vince Costello, once a hardnose middle linebacker and for the past five years linebacker coach for the Cincinnati Bengals, now makes his living as the newest of Don Shula's assistants.

"It's been no problem adjusting," said Costello, who played for the Cleveland Browns and New York Giants from 1957 to 1969.

Shula agrees. "We come from similar backgrounds," he said. "We both have been influenced by Paul Brown."

Shula played for Brown, then Cleveland Brown patriarch and now head coach at Cincinnati, a few years before Costello began his professional career. Costello played under Brown for six years and was hired by his old boss for his first coaching job.

"Sure, the similarities between the Bengal organization and here are many," he said. "You can see the Paul Brown concern with details ... the little things are important here."

John Galbreath, owner of the Pittsburgh Pirates, has won two Belmont Stakes. He won the 1963 running with Chateaugay and the 1974 renewal with Little Current.

Franco Improves In Hospital

MADRID (AP) — Gen. Francisco Franco's personal physician says the Spanish chief of state is showing great improvement in his battle against an attack of phlebitis.

The leg disease is the same ailment, an inflammation of the veins that can produce a blood clot, which recently troubled President Nixon.

"We are thinking that in a few days Franco will be much recovered," a spokesman said.

Franco, 81, was hospitalized Tuesday.

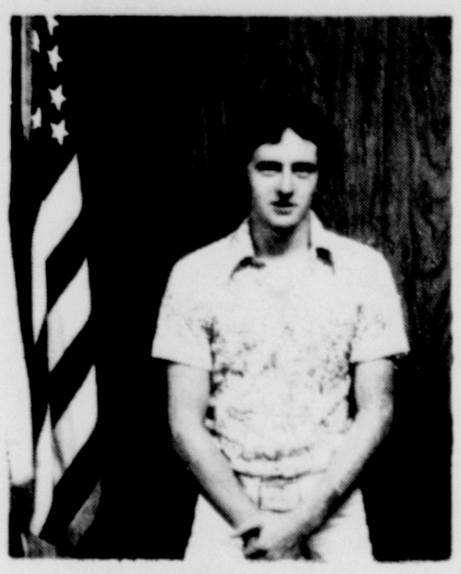
Boys And Girls In Service

Mark D. Passmore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Passmore, 1640 Winding Road, has been accepted in the U.S. Army Delayed Entry Program, according to SFC Harmon, local Army Representative.



MARK D. PASSMORE

Mark is a 1974 graduate of Circleville High School.

DEP enables a high school graduate training and schooling of their choice and location.

Passmore selected the Army's Ranger School at Fort Benning, Ga.

Army Private Donald E. Thompson, son of Mrs. Thelma Thompson, Columbus, completed nine weeks of advanced individual training at the U.S. Army Infantry Training Center, Ft. Polk, La.

He received general training as a light weapons infantryman and as a mortar and recoilless rifle crewman, in addition to specialized weapons instruction.

He also was taught the proper use of high explosives and the placement, detection and disarming of mines.

Teamwork was emphasized while he learned to work as a member of a rifle squad, mortar squad or direct fire section. Each team member completed the training well qualified to perform other jobs in case of casualties.

His father, Verdial (Sic) C. Thompson, lives on Route 1, Ashville.

Army Private George (Jeff) Grooms, son of Mrs. Ruth A. Grooms, 201 West Mill St., completed eight weeks of basic training at Ft. Jackson, S. C.

He received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, combat tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid, and Army history and traditions.

More than 2500 Ohio National Guardsmen including 113 from the 216th Engr Bn, Co D, Tarlton arrived June 29, at Camp Atterbury, Ind., for two weeks of Annual Summer Training.

The only problems associated with arrival were the usual equipment breakdowns normally associated with travel to the encampment site. Such occurrences were about normal in number.

This is the second group of Ohio Guardsmen to use the camp's facilities this summer, most of the personnel are members of the 16th Engineer Brigade Combat Corps with headquarters in Columbus.

In addition to the engineer units training here, there are several supporting units, including two medical detachments, a signal platoon, a public information detachment and a detachment of military police.

The camp commander for this period is Brigadier Jean G. Peltier of Columbus.

Of the 2500 Ohio Guardsmen training in Indiana, 800 have been sent on to Jefferson Proving Grounds in Southern Indiana where they will carry out repair work.

Camp Atterbury, the closest large training area to Ohio, was selected for Annual Training this year due to the fuel shortage.

Effective immediately, the Army is offering a new enlistment option whereby an individual may qualify for an enlistment bonus of up to $2,500. Entitled the U.S. Army Training and Cash Enlistment Option, it is open to young men and women who have a high school diploma or GED certification and who meet the Army's mental, physical and moral standards.

This is the first time the US Army has offered enlistment bonuses for occupational specialties. Depending on the occupational specialty chosen, a young man or woman could receive a bonus of $1,500 or $2,500 on a four-year enlistment where previously only those enlisting in combat skills were eligible for such bonuses.

In addition to all the regular benefits and pay, the Army is paying an individual to learn such valuable skills as radio, radar or electronics technician, mechanic or communications technician—skills that normally would require thousands of dollars in tuition to acquire as a civilian. For further information, see your local Army Representative SFC Carl L Harmon at 116 E. Main St. or call 474-8525.

Maintain Pollution Alert Level

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Teams of state personnel were inspecting industries in Eastern Ohio today to make sure they were complying with required cutbacks in pollutant emissions as a pollution alert remained in effect for the area.

Officials of the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency said pollution was holding at a high level as a stagnant air mass continued to hang over the area.

"The air is still pretty dirty," said Allan D. Franks of the EPA. "The weather doesn't seem to be doing much at all."

The alert was issued for Belmont, Monroe, Harrison and Jefferson counties after the pollution index climbed above the 200 level. At 4 p.m. Tuesday, the reading was 273.

Under an alert, designated industries are required to cut back pollutant emissions. If the index reaches the warning level of 300, additional cutbacks are required.

A pollution alert also continued in the Columbus area, although the index peaked short of the 200 mark Tuesday at 189. Franks indicated the alert could be called off today.

The eastern Ohio problem was considered one primarily industrial pollution, while officials said that in the Columbus area was mostly from automobile exhausts.

Rio De Janeiro is no longer the capital of Brazil. Brasilia, with a population of 120,000 is the new capital.

Railway Postal Clerk Has A Busy Routine

EDITOR'S NOTE: The author of these articles is a free lance writer of newspaper articles and has written for The Herald on several occasions. He entered the Railway Mail Service as a substitute railway postal clerk in 1941 and retired in June 1973 as a supervisor in the Columbus Post office. During his career with the postal service he served in various capacities both as clerk and supervisor. He and his wife Louise live in Ashville.

Since his retirement from the postal service, Leatherwood manages his farms and is a real estate dealer. The last run of the highway post office on June 30 prompted this series of articles, in which Leatherwood recalls with fond memories his days as a railway postal clerk, retells some of the stories and legends of the service and expresses his opinions on what he terms "the steady deterioration of the mail service". Opinions expressed in these articles are those of the author and not necessarily those of The Herald.

By GUY H. LEATHERWOOD

Many years ago when there were thousands of railway postal clerks, there was a school which specialized in coaching young men for the examination for substitute railway postal clerk. The school was called Franklin Institute and its correspondence courses were widely advertised in magazines.

Generally there was a picture in the ad of a railway postal car with a young man standing in the door, apparently viewing the countryside. One can only guess how many young men saw this ad and thought how wonderful it would be to see the world from a mail car door. It was clever advertising and no doubt many who took the course finally became railway postal clerks but many must have been disillusioned when the reality of the job was thrust upon them.

On those rare occasions when all the mail was distributed between stations, some clerk would sit down and remark "just like Franklin Institute advertised it."

In those days the orientation period took a few mintues. The would-be employe was given a badge, a .38 calibre revolver, belt and holster and a L. A. mail key on a long chain to fasten to his belt. He was assigned an examination on distribution of mails about which he knew nothing and which seemed impossible to learn in the short period of time alloted, and was then assigned for duty in some railway post office. A railway post office in those days could be manned by one clerk or any other number to 20 or more depending upon the area to be served. No wonder one clerk said "I was in the service two years before I knew that 'dumb sub' was two separate words." Those were the days of "wooden ships and iron men."

To be assigned to a two man crew meant a frustrating trip for both the new clerk and the Clerk-in-Charge. There was local to do (catching pouches with the catcher arm from the mail cranes along the railroad right of way as well as dispatching on the fly) and an exceeding fast pace to maintain to keep up with the work so that no mail was carried by its intended destination.

There was a Clerk-in-Charge in the Columbus & Chicago RPO who was very nervous and excitable but a very good clerk. He was in charge of the mail car in Trains 115 and 116 from Columbus to Chicago and return. It was common practice for the clerk who worked the paper rack (more commonly called the horse end because of the labor involved of handling storage mails etc.) to wear biboveralls to protect himself somewhat from the dirt and rough surface of the canvas bags. Therein lies the hub of this tale.

I was called to report in Train 115 one morning at Union Station in Columbus after I had been "subbing" for about two years. I knew the reputation of the Clerk-in-Charge and decided to have a little fun. I was wearing bib overalls and I climbed into the mail car and looked it all over for a little while just as if it was the first time I had ever seen one. Then in my best "just off the farm" tone of voice I inquired very respectfully "where's my desk?"

When he came out of orbit, he exclaimed "Your desk!!"

By this time I felt it might be better if I let him know it wasn't my first trip.

Fight Mars School Board Meeting

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Television cameras whirred and a stunned audience watched as a guest speaker dashed over to a Cincinnati Board of Education member and began punching him Monday night.

It was another in a series of stormy sessions for the board— but it was the first time heated words had erupted into violence.

Board member Robert S. Brown was struck in the face. He later filed charges against Irwin Frieman, executive secretary of the League of Hamilton County Property and Homeowners Association, Inc.

Frieman had just asked the board to vote down a proposed tax levy. Brown questioned several points in Frieman's attack on the proposed levy, and the altercation broke out.

Witness among the crowd of 60 said Brown did not fight back, but put up his hands in defense.

Frieman was led out of the meeting.

MRS. JOE JENKINS — 474-5542

Dr. Zietlow, pastor of St. Jacob's Lutheran Church, has been given the honor of representing both the AIC and the LCA at the "International Congress on World Evangelism", at Lausanne, Switzerland, from July 16th through July 25th. Dr. Zietlow will be leaving the United States on the afternoon of July 14, following church services.

A new catechism class will be starting soon at St. Jacob's church. Anyone above the fifth grade who is interested in taking instruction should contact Thelma Strous.

A reception honoring the Reverend and Mrs. Raymond Welch, will be held in the Methodist Church social room, with a carry-in dinner, on Friday evening at 6:30 p.m.

The Kings Helpers Class of the Methodist Church will have its annual picnic at Hargus Lake on Sunday at 5 p.m. Everyone is welcome to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Horn, Tarlton, attended the Fortner reunion on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Fortner, Columbus. Those coming the greatest distance were Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Fortner, Forestville, Md.; Mrs. Carol Fortner, North Vernon, Ind.; and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Bass, of Indianapolis, Ind.

After the basket dinner, the day was spent in taking pictures, visiting and playing games.

The approximately 50 who attended were from Chillicothe, Laurelville, Lancaster, Reynoldsburg, Sugar Grove, Circleville, Westerville, Columbus, besides the ones from out of state.

Those enjoying a cookout at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Fogler and Rick of near Laurelville, were Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Turvey and family, Mrs. Lenna Turvey, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Fogler, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sharp and Mr. and Mr. and Mrs. William Fogler.

Mr. and Mrs. David Horn and son were hosts at a Fourth of July picnic at their home. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Luther Davis, Atlanta; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Horn, Tarlton; Mr. and Mrs. Don Ward, Lorri, Teresa and Donovan, Mr. and Mrs. Carmen Davis and Mark, all of Circleville; Mr. and Mrs. Frankie Davis, Vicki and Kami, of Washington C.H.; and Gene Davis of near New Holland.

Mr. and Mrs. David Singleton have returned from a trip to Mt. Vernon, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Garrett (Janice Hartley) and family, formerly of Circleville, moved into the house on Harrison Street, formerly occupied by the Arthur Tatmans.

The United Methodist Women met for the July meeting in the church social room, last Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Lloyd Spring used a patriotic theme for the devotions, and the group sang "God of Our Fathers" and "America" and repeated the pledges to the American and Christian flag. Mrs. Spung closed the devotions with a poem, "I Thank God for These."

During the business meeting, conducted by the president, Mrs. Albert Spangler, plans were made for the fish fry, to be held at the Town Hall, on Aug. 8, beginning at 4 p.m.

Mrs. Joe Knittle contributed to the birthday fund and the program consisted of vocal solos by Mrs. Letha Murray and a contest presented by Mrs. Mabel Cox, and won by Mrs. Betty McJunkin.

Refresments were served at tables decorated in the patriotic motif, to 17 members and one guest by the hostesses, Mrs. Knittle and Mrs. Murray.

Fund Cuts Hurt Aging Commission

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Commission on Aging was told Tuesday that cutbacks in funding were cutting the "legs out from under" local aging programs.

The cutbacks drew angry comments from senior citizens and local agencies at a hearing sponsored by the commission.

The hearing was one of four the commission has scheduled around the state to determine how to spend $7.8 million in federal funds this fiscal year.

David Crowley, executive director of the commission, told the audience that federal funds for aging programs had been cut, and that meant the local programs would also be curtailed.

Crowley said the state commission would decide later this month how to spend the money.

William Bogart, executive director of the Cincinnati area Council on Aging, said his agency could not operate properly if the state reduces its funding to $433,000 from the $531,000 provided last year.

"You're cutting our legs out from under us," said Bogart, whose agency coordinates aging programs in five southwestern Ohio counties.

Ohio is to receive $4.5 million for nutrition programs this year. The remaining $3.3 million is for general and community services and compares with $4.5 million budgeted last year.

Nutrition funds for Hamilton and the four neighboring counties would be cut from $503,000 to $495,000.

Bogart noted that the Ohio Commission had budgeted $608,000 for itself next year, and that all the regional state councils together will receive only $497,000 for administration.

Crowley defended the commission's allocation, which he said was set by the federal government. He said area agencies budgets were set by a formula.

Charles Gibbs of the Greater Cincinnati Council of Senior Citizens urged better regulation of institutions which house the aged.

"I go into these plays and you have to hold your breath," Gibbs siad. "The stench is terrible. It's worse than a penitentiary."

Gibbs said that if minimum standards were set for nursing homes, "people could at least die with dignity."

Bogart said that a "top priority" issue should be the fact that many senior citizens are "probated into mental institutions because no one will take care of them."

Fruehauf Plans Waverly Plant

DETROIT (AP) — Frehauf Corp. announced Tuesday plans to construct a $4.6 million truck body manufacturing plant in Waverly, Ohio.

Company officials said the plant, which will employ 200 persons, will be financed by industrial development bonds issued by Pike County.

Chenault Indicted

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Marcus Wayne Chenault has been indicted on two murder charges in the shooting deaths at Atlanta's Ebenezer Baptist Church of Mrs. Martin Luther King Sr. and Deacon Edward Boykin.

A Fulton County grand jury also indicted the 23-year-old former Ohio State University student Tuesday on one count of aggravated assault in the wounding of another person, one count of carrying a pistol without a license and one count of carrying a concealed weapon.

The indictments came after Superior Court Judge Sam Phillips McKenzie ordered Chenault to undergo psychiatric examinations to determine whether he is mentally competent to stand trial.

McKenzie had turned down a plea from Chenault's attorney, Randy Bacote, that the grand jury be blocked temporarily from hearing testimony in the case.

After the indictments were issued, Bacote said the jury should have awaited more evidence. He said that if it had, the indictment probably would have been for a lesser charge than murder.

Two Injured In Collision

Two young men were injured in a collision at 11:15 p.m. Tuesday on Route 316 just east of the Route 104 junction. Injured were Kevin R. Marshall, 19, 5058 Nelson Drive, Ashville and Randy J. Cordell, 19, Route 2, Ashville.

According to the report made by State Highway Patrolman C. W. Cubbison, Marshall was eastbound on Route 316 passing another vehicle and was still in the passing lane when he struck the Cordell auto in the left rear corner.

Cordell was attempting to complete a left turn when he was struck. The patrolman cited Marshall at fault in the accident charging him with reckless operation.

Both men were taken to Mercy Hospital in Columbus by the Harrison Township Emergency Squad where they were treated for their injuries and released from the emergency room.

Glenn Turner Says He's Broke

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Supersalesman Glenn W. Turner says he had only $6.90 left after paying the $2,125 qualifying fee as a Democratic candidate for the Senate seat now held by Republican Edward J. Gurney.

"I'm flat broke .... After we scraped up the money to pay the fee, we had $6.30 left," Turner said Tuesday.

Turner, who built a fortune selling cosmetics and motivational courses, faces a second trial this fall on mail fraud charges in connection with his operations. He is expected to have at least eight opponents in his Senate nomination bid before filing closes in two weeks.

Turner's first trial at Jacksonville ended with a hung jury on May 30 after nine months of testimony. The date for the second trial has not been set.

UP A TREE—After bailing out of his disabled jet fighter over Lake Superior Air Force Major John D. Slattery finds himself up in a tree near Marquette, Mich. The jet crashed into the lake.

Emergency Medical Service Expanded

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Appalachian Ohio has brought television's "Emergency" to life by placing real people in actual life-saving situations.

For members of Southeast Ohio's Emergency Medical Service (SOEMS), an emergency may range from swinging down a steep cliff on a rope to bringing critical medical aid to an accident victim, to delivering an expectant mother to a nearby community hospital.

SOEMS, the brainchild of the nonprofit Ohio Valley Health Services Foundation, serves 235,000 Ohioans in the southeastern part of the state, making sure that no resident is more than 20 minutes from qualified medical help.

Just how qualified are SOEMS 500 trained members?

"They're not paramedics yet," said Cay Cross, SOEMS public relations director, "But they will be when they have completed advanced training."

She explained that 325 of SOEMS members work as active emergency medical technicians staffing 17 ambulance units in Athens, Hocking, Meigs, Vinton, Jackson, Gallia and Lawrence counties.

Though there is no Ohio law defining the duties of a paramedic, Miss Cross said that the most advanced squad in Hocking County is carrying and giving intravenous solutions and drugs.

According to Miss Cross, the technicians are in constant contact with doctors in community hospitals via radio-telephone. They also have the capability of a telephone patch through their ambulance radio and can reach a doctor anywhere.

"This is sometimes necessary because some of our ambulances may travel 30 to 45 minutes before reaching a hospital," Miss Cross said.

"We are lucky to have a number of former armed service medics and a lot of women," she continued, adding that some areas, where there are only women on duty, are jokingly called 'squaw squads.'

Miss Cross explained that technicians receive 60 hours of training through the Ohio Department of Education, but any special training is received either in a hospital or ambulance station under the instruction of doctors and nurses.

One toll-free number for the entire area reaches the central dispatcher who sends the closest vehicle or vehicles to the emergency scene.

Crime Cash Approved

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John J. Gilligan has announced approval of ten grants totaling $177,416 in state and federal crime control funds.

Lorain County received the largest grant, $60,000 for continuation of a narcotic and dangerous drug control Metropolitan Enforcement Group in Elyria.

Other grants included:

—$35,544 to Licking County to continue funding Way For Youth, Inc., a juvenile rehabilitation project in Newark;

—Two grants totaling $34,100 to Warren County for construction of a Warren County Criminal Justice Building;

—$16,500 to Huron for a juvenile bureau in the Huron Police Department;

—$13,200 to Lawrence County for police radio equipment;

—$12,844 to Warren for a delinquency prevention program at the Rebecca Williams Community Houses;

—$2,530 to Richland County to purchase court recording equipment for the Shelby Municipal Court;

—$2,175 to Ashland County for courtroom recording equipment;

—$523 to Tiffin for video equipment in the municipal court.

Men Win Job Suit On Airline

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Two Ohio men have won their sex discrimination suit against Capitol International Airways, which is based here.

A federal court Tuesday ordered the airline to hire men as well as women for stewardess positions.

The order was the result of a case labeled "reverse sex discrimination" brought by David Belasco, 27, of University Heights, Ohio, and William Cruise, 25, of Akron.

"There exists a substantial probability that the plaintiffs will show at trial that defendants, Capitol International, have a policy of discrimination on the basis of sex, Federal Judge Clarence C. Newcomer said.

In ordering Capitol to hire and train all of the male applicants who meet standards achieved by female stewardesses, Newcomer further stipulated that the airline "provide new application forms for the job of flight attendants to those males who have previously applied for the job and who request such application forms."

John Largerquist, a vice president of the airline, testified earlier before Judge Newcomer that Capitol began accepting male applicants May 29.

Hear Debate On Prisons At Ohio U

ATHENS, Ohio AP — A professor of social philosophy and a writer who has specialized in criminal justice disagreed Tuesday night on the effectiveness of the American prison system.

Ernest Vandenhaag, a professor at New York University, said "to prevent crime we need more offenders punished and they have to be punished with reasonable severity."

Authoress Jessica Mitford called prisons "enormous enterprises," which merely provide jobs for otherwise unemployable persons.

The two debated on punishment as part of a conference on crime and punishment being held at Ohio University.

They agreed that rehabilitation in the American prison system is futile.

"We might as well eliminate rehabilitation as a purpose of punishment," Vandenhaag said.

She said rehabilitation usually is defined in terms of prison administrators, and to them a person is rehabilitated who bows to orders.

"I think prison militants such as those at Attica are the ones who have been rehabilitated," she said. "Those are the ones who stood up and said 'I am a man' and refused the present conditions in prison."

Cincinnati Man Sues Union

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — James C. Statler of Cincinnati filed a $1.5 million suit against the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, charging the union prohibited him from working at his trade.

Statler claims he lost his job after he was denied readmission to the union after a year's suspension.

Milk Price Decline Reported In Survey

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A spot survey by The Associated Press shows the price of milk has dropped six to 10 cents per gallon during the past month.

The price decline was the result of a milk surplus, according to retailers, who said price increases are likely again in September after surpluses are exhausted.

The price of processed cheese also dropped, but not those of most natural cheeses, stores reported.

MOVIE FAN—With a box of popcorn, Paul Morgan, 91, spends another day at the movies. With few exceptions, Morgan has spent the last 9,125 days, 25 years, at the movies. "I get tired of sitting at home," said Morgan, "It gets so boring, I can't even stay home on Sundays."

Teens Use Drink Not Drugs

LONDON (AP) — Soaring black market prices for drugs are making teen-agers switch to heavy drinking, says Marcus Grant of London's Alcohol Education Center.

The result is habitual drunks often as young as 12 or 13, Grant said. "It means that by the time these youngsters reach 18, the legal age for going into a pub, they are experienced drinkers and some are well on the way to being alcoholics," he said.

He called for special emergency advice service to help bewildered parents and teachers who find their children often drink five or six pints of beer in a session.

"It will soon cost more than a penny to make a penny," says Frank H. MacDonald, deputy director of the Mint.

NEW YORK (AP) — Fred Williamson says he left pro football in 1968 "because it became work. The fun left the game. It was time for me to get on to something different, something new, more exciting."

Now, at 36, the former star defensive back for Kansas City is back in football, the TV varsity which demands a far harsher daily preparation than 100 push-ups, four-mile runs and crackback drills.

"I think I'll go home and swim a lot in my pool and maybe visit a few discotheques," he replied deadpan when asked about summer training plans for his new job on ABC's "NFL Monday Night Football" show.

The revelation came at a gathering here in which Williamson, a black action-adventure movie star and TV personality, was introduced as next season's mike-side colleague of Frank Gifford and Howard Cosell.

The previous colleague, ex-Cowboy quarterback Don Meredith, decamped this year after four ABC seasons to go work for NBC both as a Sunday football sportscaster and television thespian.

Unlike Dandy Don, who came to broadcasting direct from football, Williamson is joining ABC's play-by-play platoon more because of his acting and TV talk show activities than those of the pigskin variety.

A tall, lean native of Gary, Ind., and possessor of a degree in architectural engineering, Williamson got his TV career going as Diahann Carroll's love interest in the old "Julia" series.

Before that, he says, he briefly owned two architectural firms in San Francisco and Toronto, but closed them "when I decided I wanted to get into something a little more lucrative."

Williamson, speaking in a pregame, postpress conference interview, said he decided on acting as a means to that end after viewing the "Julia" show: "I figured they needed somebody as masculine and handsome as she was feminine.

"So I said, 'Okay, that's the thing to do.' And I went to Hollywood and became her boyfriend for a year in the show."

But one doesn't just go and act somewhere. It's not that simple. Yes it is, he insisted. He said when the show's producers asked if he could act, he replied, "Yeah, I did five years of 'Raisin in the Sun' and two years of 'Carmen Jones' in Canada."

Although it led to a screen test and then a job on the show, he now admits, "I never did any of that stuff. I lied."

JERUSALEM (AP) — East is East and West is West, and the leaders of the Eastern and Western Jewish communities in Israel refuse to meet.

The chief rabbis of the Oriental and European communities are locked in a dispute over the biblical laws of ritual slaughter, and have not met together as Israel's chief rabbinate for several months.

Teens Use Drink Not Drugs

LONDON (AP) — Soaring black market prices for drugs are making teen-agers switch to heavy drinking, says Marcus Grant of London's Alcohol Education Center.

The result is habitual drunks often as young as 12 or 13, Grant said. "It means that by the time these youngsters reach 18, the legal age for going into a pub, they are experienced drinkers and some are well on the way to being alcoholics," he said.

He called for special emergency advice service to help bewildered parents and teachers who find their children often drink five or six pints of beer in a session.

"It will soon cost more than a penny to make a penny," says Frank H. MacDonald, deputy director of the Mint.

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — Fred Williamson says he left pro football in 1968 "because it became work. The fun left the game. It was time for me to get on to something different, something new, more exciting."

Now, at 36, the former star defensive back for Kansas City is back in football, the TV varsity which demands a far harsher daily preparation than 100 push-ups, four-mile runs and crackback drills.

"I think I'll go home and swim a lot in my pool and maybe visit a few discotheques," he replied deadpan when asked about summer training plans for his new job on ABC's "NFL Monday Night Football" show.

The revelation came at a gathering here in which Williamson, a black action-adventure movie star and TV personality, was introduced as next season's mike-side colleague of Frank Gifford and Howard Cosell.

The previous colleague, ex-Cowboy quarterback Don Meredith, decamped this year after four ABC seasons to go work for NBC both as a Sunday football sportscaster and television thespian.

Unlike Dandy Don, who came to broadcasting direct from football, Williamson is joining ABC's play-by-play platoon more because of his acting and TV talk show activities than those of the pigskin variety.

A tall, lean native of Gary, Ind., and possessor of a degree in architectural engineering, Williamson got his TV career going as Diahann Carroll's love interest in the old "Julia" series.

Before that, he says, he briefly owned two architectural firms in San Francisco and Toronto, but closed them "when I decided I wanted to get into something a little more lucrative."

Williamson, speaking in a pregame, postpress conference interview, said he decided on acting as a means to that end after viewing the "Julia" show: "I figured they needed somebody as masculine and handsome as she was feminine.

"So I said, 'Okay, that's the thing to do.' And I went to Hollywood and became her boyfriend for a year in the show."

But one doesn't just go and act somewhere. It's not that simple. Yes it is, he insisted. He said when the show's producers asked if he could act, he replied, "Yeah, I did five years of 'Raisin in the Sun' and two years of 'Carmen Jones' in Canada."

Although it led to a screen test and then a job on the show, he now admits, "I never did any of that stuff. I lied."

JERUSALEM (AP) — East is East and West is West, and the leaders of the Eastern and Western Jewish communities in Israel refuse to meet.

The chief rabbis of the Oriental and European communities are locked in a dispute over the biblical laws of ritual slaughter, and have not met together as Israel's chief rabbinate for several months.

OFF TO KINGS ISLAND—About 60 Circleville youth were treated to a day at Kings Island Tuesday by the Columbus AAA. Pat Whited and Greg Brown of Pickaway County Children's Services, and mothers Norma Hill and Connie Smith had the awesome responsibility of looking after the group, and John Robinson provided transportation.

Education, Tax Relief, Pay Raise Vie For State Surplus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Education, tax relief, and a state employe pay raise—but not necessarily in that order— are the main items competing for Gov. John J. Gilligan's newly announced $80.5 million budget surplus.

Also involved in the negotiations which got under way Tuesday was Gilligan's call for an increase in public employe retirement benefits. Democrats and Republicans on a six-member budget conference committee are pushing other smaller items in a total spending package now set at $124 million. It includes $43.5 million in lottery profits.

The Senate-House committee met in closed session for two hours Tuesday, then recessed until next week on a date to be picked by Chairman Myrl H. Shoemaker, D-88 Bourneville. He said the meeting may be Tuesday.

Both sides reported they felt "some progress" was made— Republicans on their demand for a $30 million tax relief package and Democrats who said there was an "active discussion" of their proposals.

Shoemaker said there was an indication there may be an agreement on "a little more than $30 million" in additional aid to education, but that the committee members had varying ideas as to the amounts of the other items. That would give school districts between $10 and $15 extra per pupil in the upcoming school year.

Depending on details yet to be worked out, it was estimated that the state pay raise could cost about $35 million and the pension increase some $25 million which, when added to tax relief and education, would cost $120 million.

The committee agreed Tuesday it actually had only about $96.6 million to work with, since $27.4 million was earmarked earlier by both parties. The earlier amounts were $12.5 million for vocational education construction and $14.9 million to pay debt service costs on Ohio's $300 million Vietnam veterans' bonus.

Subsequently, demands at present, if met, would preclude additional disaster relief for Xenia and other tornado damaged communities, a special subsidy for school districts in Ohio's medium size cities, and another proposal to help municipalities meet increased retirement costs for police and firemen.

However, Shoemaker said, and other conferees agreed, that "everything was discussed—nothing was ruled out."

The committee's deliberations were stalled all morning Tuesday over confusion that resulted from the summer adjournment resolution the legislature adopted June 12 when the lawmakers went into recess. It provided only for legislative sessions Tuesday and again on Sept. 10, leaving up to leaders whether there would be full or skeleton sessions on those days.

Rep. Vernal G. Riffe Jr., D-89 New Boston, and others said at first they may have to call in at least a quorum of each house to amend the resolution. But eventually, Riffe and others decided it could be done Tuesday by those lawmakers on hand for the skeleton sessions. A resolution adopted by each chamber empowers leaders to determine on a weekly basis whether to call all the lawmakers back.

They won't be called, it was agreed, unless the conference committee is able to reach a compromise on the spending bill. Riffe said the legislature couldn't wait until Sept. 10 to act, since school districts by then already would have approved their budgets for the new school year.

During the skeleton sessions, the Senate and House approved a number of congratulatory resolutions and took care of some other routine business. They recessed until skeleton sessions July 16.

The House received and left in limbo the first veto message of the year from the governor. He rejected a measure that would allow the welfare department to waive certain requirements while continuing to reimburse nursing homes conducting certain demonstration projects.

In the Senate, a bill was introduced by Sen. Robert T. Secrest, D-20 Cambridge, to provide special free license plates for Ohio's Congressional Medal of Honor winners.

Sen. Paul E. Gillmor, R-2 Port Clinton, called in a new Senate resolution for the Legislative Service Commission to investigate possible invasions of Ohioans' privacy by computers.

OFF TO THE ZOO—Approximately 55 campers and staff of YMCA Day Camp, now in progress, loaded the bus Wednesday morning and were guests of Borden Burger at the Columbus Zoo. This trip was an added attraction for this years' YMCA Day Camp program. The second session, which begins Monday, still has a few openings, and a similar trip is planned for that period. Upon their return from the Zoo, the entire group was treated to refreshments at the local Borden Burger.

Unknowns Arrested In Burglary Attempt

Pickaway and Fairfield County Sheriff's Deputies apprehended a man and two women, wanted for questioning, involving break-ins in the central Ohio area.

The trio, all unidentified, was captured, by Deputy Bost and Fairfield Deputy Richard Eslinger, near Amanda after an hour chase.

The two women were discovered at the Croman Farm, 12:33 p.m. Tuesday, by Mrs. Ruth Croman in her kitchen. Mrs. Croman advised them to leave when the two women asked for a glass of water.

After obtaining a glass of water, the subjects left and got into a vehicle, with New Jersey tags, driven by a male companion. Mrs. Croman notified the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department of the suspicious persons.

Deputy Bost, after conversing with Mrs. Croman, found that the three were headed towards Fairfield County. Traveling east on Route 22, Deputy Bost, found the New Jersey vehicle along with a Fairfield County cruiser, stopped along 22 at the Amanda North intersection.

Deputy Eslinger said that the driver dropped the two female subjects off in Amanda and was supposed to pick them up later.

Pickaway County Deputy Earl Kuhn and Detective Don Thompson held the male in custody while Bost and Eslinger checked the area for the women.

They were seen walking along the railroad tracks.

Apprehended about one mile west of Amanda, the trio was brought to the Pickaway County Jail held in custody on a holder from the Springfield City Police Department.

Detectives from Columbus and Springfield Police came to the Pickaway Jail to question the trio concerning burglaries in their cities.

Springfield Police filed three "John Doe" warrants on one count of burglary, Tuesday, where the three will be transported today.

Vera Saunders Named Voter Representative

Vera Saunders, Route 5, has been appointed Vote Information Program Representative of the Pickaway Senior Center.

Ohio Secretary of State Ted W. Brown announced the appointment, attested by James Marsh, assistant Secretary of State.

Changes in the law concerning absent voting by disabled voters and persons 62 or over have been explained by Mrs. Saunders.

The new law permits persons to vote absentee if they are 62 or older or disabled without a doctor's certificate.

It also elminates notarization requirements. A statement under penalty of perjury, similar to that on tax return forms, will replace the statements under oath.

Forms to apply for absent voter ballots may be obtained from the Board of Elections. Completed applications must be returned no later than 4 p.m. Oct. 31.

Disabled persons may apply for registration forms for absentee voting by calling or writing the Board of Elections.

Persons out of the county during a registration period may register by mail or go to the office of the Board of Elections in the other county.
